

Data Usage and Privacy Policy

New Leaf Paper does not collect or share personal information.

When a customer profile is created, an inquiry is established, or a sample request is generated, we use the information we collect to provide you with goods and services. This information is preserved until the user opts out.

We commit to showing you content that's relevant, interesting, and informative to you and your business. To do that, it's necessary for us to use your information to process transactions, distribute communications and respond to your questions or comments.

We will not rent, sell, or share customer information.

We take all measures reasonably necessary to protect against the unauthorized access, use, alteration, or destruction of information.

New Leaf Paper may use third-party website analytic tools such as Google Analytics on our website that employ cookies to collect certain information concerning your use of our Services. However, you can disable cookies by changing your browser settings. Further information about the procedure to disable cookies can be found on your Internet browser provider's website via your help screen.

If you would like to opt-out of marketing communications, please contact info@newleafpaper.com
